About the original records

Thousands of Arkansans served in the great conflict now known as World War I. For those veterans, original records housed today at the Arkansas History Commission (State Archives) contain military service discharge information. Discharge records for Clark County's World War I veterans document the service of 1,046 area men who served during the war. Besides information about military service, each record card contains the veteran's age or date of birth, place of birth, and place of residence. If a soldier died during the war, that information is included in the "reason of discharge." Below is a sample card:
